

REMARKS:

These three, proposed amendments are grammatical only, not matters of substance, and require very little of the Examiner's time.

1. The first change (page 6, paragraph 15) corrects a punctuation error by adding a missing comma required after a transitional expression.
2. The second change, (page 13, paragraph 39) corrects a pronoun to its possessive form.
3. The third change (page 14, paragraph 42) corrects a sentence structure error so that adjectives are properly placed before the nouns they modify.
